ROBBERY AND DETECTION.—Three young men passed through Durham early on Sunday morning, on their way from Heriford to this place, in a splendid carriace, drawn by a span of grays, probably owned by A. C. Clapp, of Hartford. On arriving at the gate in Durham they alighted, and while there contrived to teal $14 in money, and a pocket book containing receipts to the amount of two or tree hundred dollars.—With the money stolen they paid the toll and left. The heft was soon after discovered, and the gate keeper, with Sheriff Camp, of Middletown, follewed the men to his city, and stopped at the Fark House. On entering the stable, the Sheriff saw the horses and carriage driven by those he was in pursuit of, and at the same time to was seen by the rogues, who were just about to test themselves at the dinner table. After displaying much perturbation, which attracted the notice of the boarders, one of the men passed out of the front door,

MONEY MARKET.

Tuesday, April 38—5 P. M.

The stock market was rather heavy to-day. The announcement, early this morning, that the Great Western was below, with seven days later intelligence from Europe, created some excitement in the market, and suspended operations at the board of brokers. All were afraid to make transactions, and prices were therefore rather heavy, tending towards a decline. Harlem fell off if per cent; Reeding Railroad if; Long Island i; Morris Canal f; Norwich and Worcester f; Canton f; Penn sylvania 5 f.

At the second board prices improved, and the decline, experienced at the first board was more than made up. Harlem went up 12; Norwich and Worcester 12—with large sales of each. The market was very feverish in consequence of operators knowing that late news was at hend.

We have seven days later intelligence from all parts of Europe, by the arrival of the steamship Great Western, from Liverpool. The news is highly favorable and interesting, but of no particular importance. Politically it amounts to nothing, so far as this country is concerned. All ideas of a rupture with the United States have been abandoned, and the receipt of Mr. Calhoun's pacific speech, in relation to the Oregon question, had created a much more favorable feeling than had been experienced for some time previous.

There is every probability of a great deal of political excitement in Parliament being created in relation to the Coercion and Corn Law bills, upon the meeting of Parliament; and it is not at all improbable that the ministry will be compelled to abandon the position they have taken upon these questions. Sir Robert Peel wishes to carry them through together, by a species of log-rolling, so well understood and so frequently practiced in this country. Mould the ministry fall in this move

A new counterfeit, not described in the Detectors, on the Exchange Bank of Virginis, of the denomination of five dollars, was attempted to be passed at Cumberland. Md., a day or two since. They may be easily detected by observing in the vignette, thet but one vessel is represented; while in the genuine there are several. The heads of Washington and Marshall, on the ends of the note, in the genuine are close to the figure 5, but in the counterfeit a blank space interveness. The signature of the President, W. W. Sharp, appears to be engraved. The filling up is in blue ink. On the whole, the counterfeit is well executed, and is calculated to deceive.

The trade between Texas and the United States, for the nineteen months ending October 31st, 1845, was very large, compared with previous corresponding periods. Of $1,204,870 32 worth of merchandise imported into Texas, between April 1, 1844, and October 31, 1845, all but $2,637 11 were imported from the United States. LATEST INTELLIGENCE BY THE MAILS

WASHINGTON, April 27, 1846.
Congress—Dreadful, Doleful, and Dismal Doings in the House—Mr. Webster vs. Mr. C. J. Ingersoll—The Chairman on Foreign Affairs charged in the House—Mr. Webster vs. Mr. C. J. Ingersoil—The Chairman on Foreign Affairs charged with Peculation, Distonor, Burglary, Lock-Pick—Ing., Falsehood and Equivocation—Mr. Ashmun, of Mass., charged with being a Liar, a Coward, and a Drunkard—Two Committees of Impeachment Ordered—One for the Benefit of Mr. Ingersoil, and one for the Benefit of Mr. Mebster.

For the elucidation of the foregoing significant caption of the dismal doings of the day in the House, see your reporter's report. The House, today, has taken the premium from the Legislature of Arkansas. There, they fight when there is a provocation; but here, there was a provocation without any apprehension of a fight. Mr. Ingersoil brought forward his accusations against Mr. Webster, apparently from the books of the department, standing himself as the accuser, the witness, and the judge. Mr. Ashmun replied against the validity of the testimony, charging Mr. Ingersoil with being a detaulter and peculator while District Attorney of Pennsylvania, under Jackson, and that that was the reason of his discharge. Mr. Jos. R. Ingersoil came to the defence of his brother, and made out a fair case. Mr. Ashmun resumed, charging Charles Jared substantially with picking the locks of the State Department, with having told divers falsehoods, with being guilty of divers equivocations, and with having tought of were equivocations, and with having tought of the Chairman on Foreign Affairs. "Who, me I" says Mr. Ingersoil." Yes, you"—so replies Mr. Ashmun. "It's a lie!" says Mr. Ingersoil. Mr. Ashmun reiterated the charge. "Its the lie of a coward!" "The aged gentleman!" —If Al ha! all over the House.] "The aged gentleman."—If Ha! ha! all over the House.] "The aged gentleman." says Mr. A. "Oh! no, i amy you genough yet," says Mr. A. TWENTY-NINTH CONGRESS.

In Senate.

Washington, Monday, April 27, 1846.

After the fine rain of yesterday, a morning has succeeded, as fresh and sparkling, and blooming and beautiful and balmy, and sweet and musical, as a young bride. It is a gloriously delicious morning. Talk of the skies of Italy. Hey never had such a morning as this. She never saw a sky so pure. Can't get up such a morning as this any where size than on this continent. Prayer by the Rev. Mr. Millsunn.

Journal of Thursday last.

The Vice Pransipary laid before the Senate a communication from the Executive government on the naval defences of the country. Also, a despatch from the Secretary of State, on the subject of Franch spoliations upon American commerce prior to 1801—Ordered to be printed.

Petitions, by Messrs. Dix, Evans, Benton, Fairfield, Yulee, Cass, Cameron, Green.

Millam Powers.

Mr. Prace, from the Library Committee, to which the subject had been committed, reported a bill authorizing Hiram Powers te execute certain statues for the United States. This is good.

Mr. Parspirke, from the Naval Committee, reported several little bills.

THE NETICE.

The Vice President signed the enrolled resolution from the House authorising the President, "at his discretion," to give the notice.

OREGON PROTECTION BILL—THE NOTICE.

The bill of the Senate providing for an extension of the laws of the United States over the citizens of this country settled in Oregon, and for grants of land to American settlers, came up on a motion of Mr. Breese that the vote by which it had been referred to the committee on territories, be considered.

Mr. Allen hoped the bill would be referred to some committee; and that the committee to whom it might be referred weuld report it an early day for the sotion of the Senate. It was boyond a doubt that the convention of joint occupancy would soon be terminated. While the convention continued, the citizens of the United States in Oregon, would be protected in their equal privileges.

the notice, entirely under British jurisanction. at the end of thirteen months the joint convention, at the furthest, would be terminated, and the necessity, from this fact, of some such law as this, was apparent.

Mr. HUNTINGTON argued that the committee on territories was the proper committee to which to refer the bill.

Mr. SEVIER moved that the bill be postponed, in order that the Senator from New York [Mr. Dix.] might take up the discussion of the special order [French spolistions] in opposition to the Senator from Delaware [Mr. J. M. Clayton.]

Mr. Allen hoped the bill for the protection of our settlers in Oregon wouldbe referred to some committee. He asked the Senator from Illinois [Mr. Breese] to withdraw the motion for a reconsideration of reference to the Retters addressed, to W. Corpyn., aneager of the swist prompt attention at that time. All tirre and the proposition of the wist by make the said Oregon bill was restained at that time.
